

Group Awards

Directions: Each person should make a list on a piece of paper from 1 to 25. Counselor reads each award and on their list each person must select another person from group who most deserves that award in their opinion. Group members cannot pick themselves.

When lists are complete then go through each one and see if there is a person who has more votes than anyone else. Counselor gives out a piece of paper with that award to that group member with the most votes. (Just give out two or three of the same awards when there is a tie)

Process: At the end, go around the room and have everyone review what awards they won and discuss them

- Which awards do you really believe you deserved - Are there any you do not agree with?
- Which awards are you proud of?
- Overall, how do you feel about the awards your group gave you?
